Peterson's Magazine

For 1858, comes to our table, greatly enlarged, and improved, both in reading matter and in the style and execution of its embellishment. The steel plate and fashion engravings are of a high order, and shows that Peterson is not going to be behind any of his competitors, in giving his readers a first class book. Terms, $2 per annum. By paying in your subscription at this office, you obtain a liberal discount. We furnish that, and the True Northerner for $2.25. Cash.

Exchange.

Mr. Clapp of Kalamazoo the new proprietor of the "Exchange" has taken possession, and is now keeping the establishment. We have not yet formed his acquaintance, but judging from appearance, we bespeak for him a large and liberal patronage.

New Presbyterian Church.

The above edifice, we understand is all completed except the inside painting.—The building is of brick, large and finished up with taste and elegance. A tall and graceful spire, pointing the way heavenward is at once an object of beauty and attraction to the place, and we trust the whole will be a center of usefulness and spiritual devotion. Mr. Tuttle, the present pastor, remains with the Church and Society another year.
